Sat, 19 May 2018 03:10:00 GMT - The underlying questions are whether we have control over our actions, and if so, what sort of control, and to what extent. These questions predate the early Greek stoics (for example, Chrysippus), and some modern philosophers lament the lack of progress over all these millennia.. On one hand, humans have a strong sense of freedom, which leads us to believe that we have free will.
